P2P The Pipeline to Equity Partnership℠:

The Skills, Strategies and Stumbling Blocks Women Lawyers Encounter on Their Path to Reach Equity Status

Supporting its Challenge to increase the percentage of women equity partners to 30% by 2015, and building on the success of its inaugural program conducted in September 2012, NAWL is hosting its second P2P program targeted to women lawyers on the brink of equity partnership at their respective law firms, or who will be in the near future. This program combines hands-on learning with insights and guidance from distinguished panel members on the new skills, strategies and priorities that women lawyers need to develop to become an owner of the business. The program allows for frank conversation and exchange of ideas on the ethical and professional challenges women lawyers encounter in the pipeline to equity partnership. Guidance on such topics as gender bias, effective and ethical client management and the risk of internal firm politics will set the stage for participants to learn how to align their skills to their particular firm's strategy, culture and position in the marketplace.
